

Email to fax

Email2Fax enables you to send a document by email which is then delivered to a fax machine.

The service uses your normal email application, no special software is needed.

The fax we send is the document attached to your email.

Accepted formats are .jpg .tif .tiff .png .pdf .txt .csv .htm .html .doc .docx .xls .xlsx .rtf

For example, if the fax number you wished to send a fax to was "01234223344" then the format of the email address would be: 01234223344@email2fax.me

Simply attach the document to your email, and then send to the fax number in the email address format described above. Your document will then be delivered to the fax machine.

To enable the service you must have a registered Email address. Individuals or a group of individuals can be registered to use the service.

Additional benefits:

- Fax header message
This enables you to word your own personalised fax header message to be displayed at the very top of the page of your fax when it is delivered.
- Delivery confirmation
We will send you an email to confirm the delivery of the fax along with the subject in the email header.
- Re-try policy
Our service is set to try up to three times at varying intervals to ensure your fax is delivered, in case the fax machine you are sending to is busy on the first attempt.
- Send up to 10 attachments on the same email.

In most cases there are no changes needed to enable your application - simply use the "faxnumber@email2fax.me" where you would normally put the recipients email address - that's it.

Fax to email

Furthermore, combined with our Fax to email service you can receive your faxes wherever you can access your email.

Fax to email is a service that allows incoming faxes to be received via email and stored as .pdf files.

The main benefit of using this service is the ability to preview emails as soft copies before printing, meaning no wasted paper and ink.

It also provides a cost effective facility for people who do not own a fax line with the associated line rentals and cost.
